Three Pressure Cookers At County H. D. Office

The County has 3 pressure cookers and 2 sealers for any one to use that does not have one available. To keep them in good condition for future use, a ten dollar deposit is made —when the cooker or sealer is returned if all parts are there and it is clean, the money is refunded—if not, the cost of replacement is taken from the deposit and the balance is returned. The equipment may be kept 1 week, if needed longer, a written request may be made.

This equipment is in the home demonstration agent's office, basement of the court house and may be secured at any time that it is not in use.

Good Ways to Have Something To Eat

TUB GARDENS are ideal for growing tomatoes, peppers, squash, and cucumbers, says several homemakers. Mrs. F. W. Poe of Carlton and Mrs. J. C. Williams of Avoca, and several town ladies have found them good. Experience shows that tub gardens will produce many vegetables through the hottest, driest weather. Directions for building one are:

First of all, select a spot for the tub garden in a place that's accessible to water. Next, find an old tub or several 5 gallon cans.

Cut gashes in the tub or can —about half way up to the bottom —perhaps 4 or 5 around the tub —possibly 3 to 5 to a 5 gallon can. Then sink the lower two-thirds of the tub into the ground. Fill the container up to the ground level with barnyard manure. Finally, cover the manure with an inch or two of good soil. The idea is—to irrigate the garden through this tub contrivance.

Planting the tub garden: First, select a drouth resistant kind of tomato. Set your tomato plants opposite the gashes you made in the tub—not any closer than 8 to 10 inches, anyway. About a foot farther out—and between the tomato plants—set 4 or 5 bell pepper plants and 4 or 5 egg plants. Cucumbers and squash do well.

The garden will do best if you'll water thoroughly through the tub 2 to 3 times per week. In hot weather, the plants will produce more, if the garden has a shade and a wind-break made from sacks or other handy material. If you need more information write your county home demonstration agent.

Canning Snap Beans

Try canning them this way. Very young tender beans, snapped, packed in jars with 1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart of beans, pour boiling water over them, put in cooker and steam 10 minutes with water up to shoulder of jar. Seal jars and remove all but 2 inches of water, process beans (quart jars 35 minutes, pint jars 30 minutes) at 10 lbs. pressure.

Canning Bulletins

These may be secured free from Chamber of Commerce in Anson, Hamlin or Stamford and at the Home Demonstration Agent's office.

Canning Pineapple

This is a simple matter. Try it this way.

Select ripe orange colored fruit from which spines may be pulled readily—cut off stem end and twist out top. Cut 1-2 inch slices. Peel each slice—remove core and eyes. Cook core and peel in water 15 to 20 minutes—strain and make syrup with this juice — pack raw, pour boiling syrup over fruit and steam jars open in boiling water 10 minutes. Seal and cover jars with boiling water at least an inch over the tops of jars—with lid on container—for 20 minutes.

The Barrow Company "Ambulanced" a Man Weighing Over 500 lbs

On Friday afternoon R. Y. Barrow went to the home of J. W. Ash, about 5 miles south of McCauley to convey the little fellow, weighing perhaps over 500 pounds, to the Stamford Hospital.

Bob said, fortunately, the man was able to lift himself a little and with the aid of James Branscum, both Bob and James lacking 100 lbs. being as heavy as the "patient", they finally got Mr. Ash comfortable in the ambulance.

Up to this time the Herald has not learned the report of the diagnosis at the hospital.

Bob Barrow says he did not weigh the man, but "he looked like it and felt like it."

Baptist Encampment To Meet At Lueders

Each year, about this season, hundreds of Baptists from this section make their way to the beautiful grounds located just east of Lueders to attend the General Encampment. Those who attend receive more than the benefits of an ordinary vacation. They receive information, inspiration, and fellowship that will enrich their lives and enable them to meet the hard problems of life in a better way.

Beginning Monday evening, and continuing through Sunday the 27th, Baptists will meet again. Prospects are good for a fine crowd. In fact, some people are already on the grounds. A splendid program has been arranged, and people are urged to attend.

Dr. E. S. James of Vernon will be Camp Pastor this year. Rev. C. A. Powell, noted as a preacher and Bible teacher all over this section, will teach the book of Ephesians. Mrs. Carl McEachern and W. O. Vaught, Jr., outstanding Youth Leaders of Texas, will be there to lead special conferences for young people. There are many more on the program, but space fails to tell of them. Several plan to attend the encampment from Hamlin.

Service Men Helped By Home Service

Home service of Jones County Red Cross Chapter, linking men in the armed forces with their families back home, is continuing at a peak with an average of more than three cases daily handled.

Miss Hybernna Grace, Anson, is home service chairman, with vice-chairmen in each town of the county serving as her assistants. Her report of June 15 shows 291 cases for active service, and ex-service men and civilians (meaning parents or wives of men killed or died in service) handled through March, April and May.

These home service contacts called for an average of more than two interviews daily, more than one telephone call, more than one telegram daily, nearly two letters daily written, and more than ten miles daily travelled in execution of the services.

Aid to members of active military forces and their dependents and to disabled ex-service men and their dependents is a primary obligation of all Red Cross Chapters. According to report of Miss Grace, average cost per case for March was eighty cents, for April, $1.29, for May, $1.08. Family problems, discharges, furloughs, social histories, are among such Red Cross aids given.

Stewart, District Deputy Grand Matron, and Mrs. Flora Belle Clements, Deputy Grand Matron.

—We hear a lot these days about the "white collar" man going out to help his fellow farmers clean up his crops...not many farmers have in confidence in the soft hands. Had said hands gotten a spring-long tune up and toughening, they would be able to stay a day and return the next morning. Not so now. Four hours and the old soft is in and out, with the next week doctoring up and growing some more skin.

—It is perfectly stylish, and even as silly to prophecy how long the war is going to last. WE believe Germany will get all she can stand by December, and that Italy will crumble by September. Sicily will likely hand over itself by July 15, or maybe July 1. Russia will never let the German machine get under way on this summer drive, and by September will be pushing the Huns back in harmony with English-American forces in the West. In the meantime Our forces will be accumulating and then next year the Japs will die and burn by the millions. That's our guess.

Guard Your Anti-Freeze Engineers Tell Motorists

Will you love your car in December as you did in May, asks the SAE War Engineering board? To keep your affections high and your temper low next winter, the automotive engineers recommend that you give immediate attention to your anti-freeze solution.

They offer two methods of determining if you can save your present supply for next year when anti-freeze solution is expected to be very scarce.

(1). Dip blue litmus paper in the solution and watch for a color change. If it turns a distinct pink or red, you can discard your anti-freeze. Otherwise, it can be saved.

(2). Allow a sample to stand in a clear glass container overnight. To be useful next year the top fourth of the solution should be clear, water white, or have a slight tinge of the color of the original anti-freeze solution.

John Green has been in the Abilene hospital now for a week, and reports are that he is improving. Also in the same hospital is his mother, Mrs. Jennie C. Green, who will likely be back home Saturday.

THIS WEEK

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT

This

AND A LITTLE BIT OF

—This week we have been looking over the pages of LIFE and we see clearly that our prediction of many weeks ago, "That soon North Africa will be the biggest junk ground in the world, except perhaps Western Russia." So it was so.

—It is satisfying to a great degree to see the picture of the "German Tank Graveyard"...acres of scrap metal...piles of parts from smashed planes...burned out fuselages of German eight-wheel transports...bashed in and gutted axis steamers...German small arms, pile after pile...German helmets stacked up like hay...German field guns, size after size. German tires, big sound and fat...German anti-aircraft guns, stilled and helpless pointing towards an empty sky....

German gasoline cans, flattened and ready for shipment...German motor vehicles, fancy models and many six wheel tank destroyers...there is some more "junk" to be mentioned...there were the thousands of German prisoners, big tough looking kid-like fellows, those "super men" who started out to show the world that all who did not have their kind of blood were some sort of inferior race...now let's bear in mind these fellows are not conquered, just overcome...they are just the same kind of people that live in Texas, proud and aggressive, but badly misled, badly educated, heartless and hard headed. They are not "lost junk". They are subject to repairs and reworking. It is up to their neighbors like England and America and associates to rehabilitate their minds and crushed cities and factories...Yes sir there is going to be a lot more junk, and it will not all be German. Italy is getting it now, and most of the Axis will be a junked world before this thing is over.

—And now it is raining a lot more this Thursday morning. It is generally true that West Texas people welcome rain, but right now that is not true. All the wheat is not in yet, and the cotton fields are green unto hoeing and hoe hands are not plentiful. The rains this week will set things in bad, for hardly will anything be dry enough to handle till next Monday, in this vicinity.

—We hear a lot these days about the "white collar" man going out to help his fellow farmers clean up his crops...not many farmers have in confidence in the soft hands. Had said hands gotten a spring-long tune up and toughening, they would be able to stay a day and return the next morning. Not so now. Four hours and the old soft is in and out, with the next week doctoring up and growing some more skin.

—It is perfectly stylish, and even as silly to prophecy how long the war is going to last. WE believe Germany will get all she can stand by December, and that Italy will crumble by September. Sicily will likely hand over itself by July 15, or maybe July 1. Russia will never let the German machine get under way on this summer drive, and by September will be pushing the Huns back in harmony with English-American forces in the West. In the meantime Our forces will be accumulating and then next year the Japs will die and burn by the millions. That's our guess.

Miss Willard Bristow and brother Frank and her niece Jacqueline Hall left Tuesday for Corpus Christi where they will reside while the war is going. They have relatives there working in a government plant.

Putting The Monkey On The Wrong Back

It is really pitiful how the public is misled these days on the question of the Coal Strikes. Note below a sample, from the Industrial News Review: The run of newspapers and the vast majority of people seem never to consider that there is a "human side" to the question of labor. Generally the big industrial concerns want as much as possible out of men who labor without yielding a penny more either in salaries or safety protection. So their propaganda "rages on" and the public snatches it up and gobbles it down as if the men had committed some great crime, when as a matter of fact, the men want only their just rights. Yet, we hear a lot of popping off, without knowing what is really in the background. Here is a sample:

"The well planned closing of the nation's coal mines while United Mine Workers' demands were in process of negotiation, is on a par with the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

Words cannot express the contempt of the American people for individuals who are parties to such treachery, and who refuse to work while our soldiers die.

Let us hope that Congress will at last assert its authority and enact legislation providing controls for organized mutiny which endangers public safety for personal gain.

If the enemy had bombed our coal mines, the work stoppage would not have been as complete as when the United Mine Workers deserted their posts. Therefore their action is the equivalent of an enemy attack on this nation".

—Industrial News

Now let's put the monkey on the backs where it belongs. The miners

did not refuse to work, when they had a contract. Their contract expired and the owners and operators of the mines knew it months before the last day, March 31. The owners are to blame, and the monkey is on their backs. The government has never taken over the mines on a basis to make a contract with the miners, and refusing to work without a contract was not treachery or treason, against the government any more than a cotton chopper refusing to "chop" till an understanding with the farmers as to what the pay shall be and whether or not the farmer will furnish the "water" or the "hoe" or something else in addition to the wages. Maybe bean pickers had better be fined for not picking beans for some bean raiser, or maybe this and maybe that....the facts are the mines are not government property "yet" and we have not come to the point where one private man can be forced to work for another private man or firm. However, any government owned industry can be operated in war times on conscripted labor. But not for private works, no matter how essential to the public welfare.

What Will They Buy?

A recent survey by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce shows that if the war ended tomorrow, 53 per cent of the 35 million families in this country would buy one or more of six major articles within six months.

One family out of 14 would buy a new car. One family out of every 35 would buy or build a new home. One out of 20 would buy a new refrigerator; one out of 25 a new washing machine; and one out of 30 an electric iron and vacuum cleaner. One out of 12 say they will give their homes a coat of paint. One out of every 35 are going to put in a

Two rubber state governors are scheduled to get together June 28, when American Made rubber day is celebrated in Texas. The day has been proclaimed by Governor Coke R. Stevenson and all Texas will join in celebrating the important part Texas is playing in the vital rubber program.

Because most of the rubber is now processed in Ohio the arrangements committee, headed by Thornton Hall, of San Antonio, president of the Texas Newspaper Publishers' association and Deskins Wells, manager of the Texas Press association, has invited Governor John W. Bricker to take part in the ceremonies.

Four of the government-owned plants are being erected in Texas, and more synthetic rubber will be produced in this state than in any other. Occasion of the June 28 celebration is the opening of the Baytown plant, to be operated by The General Tire & Rubber company in association with the General Latex and Chemical company, of Cambridge, Mass.

A nation-wide broadcast on the night of June 28 will tell the nation of Texas' part in the solution of the rubber problem.

About Soldiers--Sailors

Box I USS Colorado

Dear Friend Mr. Pope:

Just received a couple of Heralds. Really enjoyed reading them. They were about two months in getting here.

How is everything in Hamlin? I hope all is well there. It certainly is not well here as yet.

Just read your article about the eggs. I'm inclosing a verse about eggs that appeared in "The Yank" army weekly. Enjoyed it quite a lot. I think in the last six months we have had eggs twice. Main dish is spuds. They're served 3 times a day. Then we still have those beans for breakfast. They're not so bad if you get "red lead" to go with them. Red lead is the slang for catsup.

If any body could send me Max Carlton's and Vesta Townley's addresses, I would appreciate it. If Max is on the same cruiser as he was about eight months ago I can locate him. His ship was coming into a port and mine was just leaving. The only man from Hamlin that I have run into so far is Leray LeBaume, but have found plenty from Abilene, Stamford, Sweetwater and all 'round. I am now a Seaman first class. I made it about four months ago.

As ever,

D. F. Griffin, S 1-C

EGGS

Oh, I've never had much money, Though I've never had to beg, But I've never known a thing as scarce As one doggone fresh egg.

At home we had Rhode Island Reds And chickens with white legs, And we always had enough of Those precious things called eggs. Yes, at home we had a-plenty

Yes, at home we had a-plenty And never had to pay, But on this confounded island The hens refuse to lay.

When I return from this darned place I'll eat my fill and then, Just to top the whole thing off, I think I'll eat the hen.

THESE HORSES HAVE JOINED THE CAVALRY!

The merry-go-round has gone to war!

Like the plants that made refrigerators, stoves, furniture, and many other familiar household items, a plant that made merry-go-rounds is now turning out vital equipment for our fighting forces.

It was the biggest job ever performed by American industry to change over from washing machines to guns, from automobiles to planes and tanks. A job that demanded more machinery, more equipment, more men—and more electric power!

That's part of the story why America clicks, of our amazing ability to get things done. Let's feel proud of our achievement... proud that we have more electric power here in America than all the rest of the world combined, and we are using it.

Yes, we have built up in this country more kilowatt-hour output than all the Axis dominated countries combined.

The electric power line is another line the Axis cannot hold.

Lines have been extended to new factories and military training camps ahead of schedule.

It was not an accident that America was power-full.

Electric companies, under business management like the West Texas Utilities, had planned ahead. Knowing their business, schooled in emergencies, they saw to it that Uncle Sam had plenty of electric power—wherever and whenever needed!

It's on tap for all civilian needs too—no shortages, no rationing, no increase in cost.

It's an outstanding wartime example of what free men can do. Free enterprise works!

We're fighting this war to hold this freedom. Government bureaucracies should place full emphasis on winning the war and desist from their political endeavors to permanently change our system of government.

War Work of a Santa Fe Wheat Car

This statement explains why many Santa Fe box cars, built to move wheat during harvest season, are many miles away doing other war jobs.

★ This year an estimated 75,000,000 bushels of wheat must be moved by the Santa Fe from the wheat states it serves.

It will take about 50,000 carloads to handle Santa Fe's big share of this vital job!

To move wheat and other grains, Santa Fe has specially built weather-proof box cars—but today, many of these cars are far from the wheat belt. Where are they? What are they doing? The map above will give you an idea—it shows the movement of a wheat car for the past four months.

A Wheat Car Gets Around

Starting at Hutchinson, Kansas, with a load of flour for Boston, this wheat car has been kept rolling with vital war cargoes, including Army shoes, Army clothing, aluminum, lumber, machinery, and has just delivered a warload at San Francisco... far from the wheat belt where it is needed now!

In four months this car has covered 1,439 miles on Santa Fe rails, and 9,749 miles on the other railroads. No rest for a war worker these days, but a fellow sure gets around!

Every Car in Action

Every Santa Fe box car, as well as box cars of all other railroads, is in action today. Some of these cars are too far away to be able to return to the wheat belt in time for use.

But guided by the wise direction of the Association of American Railroads, the Office of Defense Transportation, and the Interstate Commerce Commission's Bureau of Service, plus the friendly cooperation of the Army and Navy and war freight shippers, Santa Fe is making every effort to secure as many cars as can be spared from war movements to handle this year's wheat harvest.

COMMENT No. 1. Reports from the war fronts are reaching Americans in fast time, thanks to the efficient manner in which our war correspondents are doing a fine job. Yes, we are delighted over victories that are coming our way but we have a long way yet to travel before a final and complete victory. We can imagine the destruction being done by our pilots and the R. A. F. and it seems that no nation could possibly hold out for long under such severe bombings as the Italian people are now going through. It seems hopeless for the Italian people to continue the war, and the so-called master race of Germany will soon realize if they haven't already, the mighty

I'M IN THIS WAR TOO!

Yes, indeed! I'm mighty proud to be furnishing some of the 57,333,000,000 eggs Uncle Sam's asked for in '43. It takes five of us hens to lay enough eggs for just one soldier's yearly supply, and you can bet we're all laying to beat the Axis.

Three Pressure Cookers At County H. D. Office

The County has 3 pressure cookers and 2 sealers for any one to use that does not have one available. To keep them in good condition for future use, a ten dollar deposit is made — when the cooker or sealer is returned if all parts are there and it is clean, the money is refunded — if not, the cost of replacement is taken from the deposit and the balance is returned. The equipment may be kept 1 week, if needed longer, a written request may be made.

This equipment is in the home demonstration agent's office, basement of the court house and may be secured at any time that it is not in use.

Good Ways to Have Something To Eat

TUB GARDENS are ideal for growing tomatoes, peppers, squash, and cucumbers, says several homemakers, Mrs. F. W. Poe of Carlton and Mrs. J. C. Williams of Avoca, and several town ladies have found them good. Experience shows that tub gardens will produce many vegetables through the hottest, driest weather. Directions for building one are:

First of all, select a spot for the tub garden in a place that's accessible to water. Next, find an old tub or several 5 gallon cans.

Cut gashes in the tub or can — about half way up to the bottom — perhaps 4 or 5 around the tub — possibly 3 to 5 to a 5 gallon can. Then sink the lower two-thirds of the tub into the ground. Fill the container up to the ground level with barnyard manure. Finally, cover the manure with an inch or two of good soil. The idea is — to irrigate the garden through this tub contrivance.

Planting the tub garden: First, select a drought resistant kind of tomato. Set your tomato plants opposite the gashes you made in the tub — not any closer than 8 to 10 inches, anyway. About a foot farther out — and between the tomato plants — set 4 or 5 bell pepper plants and 4 or 5 egg plants. Cucumbers and squash do well.

The garden will do best if you'll water thoroughly through the tub 2 to 3 times per week. In hot weather, the plants will produce more, if the garden has a shade and a wind-break made from sacks or other handy material. If you need more information write your county home demonstration agent.

Canning Snap Beans
Try canning them this way. Very young tender beans, snapped, packed in jars with 1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart of beans, pour boiling water over them, put in cooker and steam 10 minutes with water up to shoulder of jar. Seal jars and remove all but 2 inches of water, process beans (quart jars 35 minutes, pint jars 30 minutes) at 10 lbs. pressure.

Canning Bulletins
These may be secured free from Chamber of Commerce in Anson, Hamlin or Stamford and at the Home Demonstration Agent's office.

Canning Pineapple
This is a simple matter. Try it this way.

Select ripe orange colored fruit from which spines may be pulled readily — cut off stem end and twist out top. Cut 1-2 inch slices. Peel each slice — remove core and eyes. Cook core and peel in water 15 to 20 minutes — strain and make syrup with this juice — pack raw, pour boiling syrup over fruit and steam jars open in boiling water 10 minutes. Seal and cover jars with boiling water at least an inch over the tops of jars — with lid on container — for 20 minutes.

"Ambulanced" a Man Weighing Over 500 lbs

On Friday afternoon R. Y. Barrow went to the home of J. W. Ash, about 5 miles south of McCaulley to convey the little fellow, weighing perhaps over 500 pounds, to the Stamford Hospital.

Bob said, fortunately, the man was able to lift himself a little and with the aid of James Branscum, both Bob and James lacking 100 lbs. being as heavy as the "patient", they finally got Mr. Ash comfortable in the ambulance.

Up to this time the Herald has not learned the report of the diagnosis at the hospital.

Bob Barrow says he did not weigh the man, but "he looked like it and felt like it."

Baptist Encampment To Meet At Lueders

Each year, about this season, hundreds of Baptists from this section make their way to the beautiful grounds located just east of Lueders to attend the General Encampment. Those who attend receive more than the benefits of an ordinary vacation. They receive information, inspiration, and fellowship that will enrich their lives and enable them to meet the hard problems of life in a better way.

Beginning Monday evening, and continuing through Sunday the 27th, Baptists will meet again. Prospects are good for a fine crowd. In fact, some people are already on the grounds. A splendid program has been arranged, and people are urged to attend.

Dr. E. S. James of Vernon will be Camp Pastor this year. Rev. C. A. Powell, noted as a preacher and Bible teacher all over this section, will teach the book of Ephesians. Mrs. Carl McEachern and W. O. Vaught, Jr., outstanding Youth Leaders of Texas, will be there to lead special conferences for young people. There are many more on the program, but space fails to tell of them. Several plan to attend the encampment from Hamlin.

Service Men Helped By Home Service

Home service of Jones County Red Cross Chapter, linking men in the armed forces with their families back home, is continuing at a peak with an average of more than three cases daily handled.

Miss Hybernica Grace, Anson, is home service chairman, with vice-chairmen in each town of the county serving as her assistants. Her report of June 15 shows 291 cases for active service, and ex-service men and civilians (meaning parents or wives of men killed or died in service) handled through March, April and May.

These home service contacts called for an average of more than two interviews daily, more than one telephone call, more than one telegram daily, nearly two letters daily written, and more than ten miles daily travelled in execution of the services.

Aid to members of active military forces and their dependents and to disabled ex-service men and their dependents is a primary obligation of all Red Cross Chapters. According to report of Miss Grace, average cost per case for March was eighty cents, for April, $1.29, for May, $1.08. Family problems, discharges, furloughs, social histories, are among such Red Cross aids given.

Guard Your Anti-Freeze Engineers Tell Motorists

Will you love your car in December as you did in May, asks the SAE War Engineering board? To keep your affections high and your temper low next winter, the automotive engineers recommend that you give immediate attention to your anti-freeze solution.

They offer two methods of determining if you can save your present supply for next year when anti-freeze solution is expected to be very scarce.

(1). Dip blue litmus paper in the solution and watch for a color change. If it turns a distinct pink or red, you can discard your anti-freeze. Otherwise, it can be saved.

(2). Allow a sample to stand in a clear glass container overnight. To be useful next year the top fourth of the solution should be clear, water white, or have a slight tinge of the color of the original anti-freeze solution.

THIS WEEK

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT

This

—This week we have been looking over the pages of LIFE and we see clearly that our prediction of many weeks ago, "That soon North Africa will be the biggest junk ground in the world, except perhaps Western Russia." So it was so.

—It is satisfying to a great degree to see the picture of the "German Tank Graveyard."... acres of scrap metal... piles of parts from smashed planes... burned out fuselages of German eight-wheel transports... bashed in and gutted axis steamers... German small arms, pile after pile... German helmets stacked up like hay... German field guns, size after size. German tires, big sound and fat... German anti-aircraft guns, stilled and helpless pointing towards an empty sky... German gasoline cans, flattened and ready for shipment... German motor vehicles, fancy models and many six wheel tank destroyers... there is some more "junk" to be mentioned...

...there were the thousands of German prisoners, big tough looking kid-like fellows, those "super men" who started out to show the world that all who did not have their kind of blood were some sort of inferior race... now let's bear in mind these fellows are not conquered, just overcome... they are just the same kind of people that live in Texas, proud and aggressive, but badly misled, badly educated, heartless and hard headed. They are not "lost junk". They are subject to repairs and reworking. It is up to their neighbors like England and America and associates to rehabilitate their minds and crushed cities and factories... Yes sir there is going to be a lot more junk, and it will not all be German. Italy is getting it now, and most of the Axis will be a junked world before this thing is over.

—And now it is raining a lot more this Thursday morning. It is generally true that West Texas people welcome rain, but right now that is not true. All the wheat is not in yet, and the cotton fields are green unto hoeing and hoe hands are not plentiful. The rains this week will set things in bad, for hardly will anything be dry enough to handle till next Monday, in this vicinity.

—We hear a lot these days about the "white collar" man going out to help his fellow farmers clean out his crops... not many farmers have in confidence in the soft hands. Had said hands gotten a spring-long tune up and toughening, they would be able to stay a day and return the next morning. Not so now. Four hours and the old soft is in and out, with the next week doctoring up and growing some more skin.

—It is perfectly stylish, and even as silly to prophecy how long the war is going to last. WE believe Germany will get all she can stand by December, and that Italy will crumble by September. Sicily will likely hand over itself by July 15, or maybe July 1. Russia will never let the German machine get under way on this summer drive, and by September will be pushing the Huns back in harmony with English-American forces in the West. In the meantime Our forces will be accumulating and then next year the Japs will die and burn by the millions. That's our guess.

Miss Willard Bristow and brother Frank and her niece Jacqueline Hall left Tuesday for Corpus Christi where they will reside while the war is going. They have relatives there working in a government plant.

Putting The Monkey On The Wrong Back

It is really pitiful how the public is misled these days on the question of the Coal Strikes. Note below a sample, from the Industrial News Review: The run of newspapers and the vast majority of people seem never to consider that there is a "human side" to the question of labor. Generally the big industrial concerns want as much as possible out of men who labor without yielding a penny more either in salaries or safety protection. So their propaganda "rages on" and the public snatches it up and gobbles it down as if the men had committed some great crime, when as a matter of fact, the men want only their just rights. Yet, we hear a lot of popping off, without knowing what is really in the background. Here is a sample:

"The well planned closing of the nation's coal mines while United Mine Workers' demands were in process of negotiation, is on a par with the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

Words cannot express the contempt of the American people for individuals who are parties to such treachery, and who refuse to work while our soldiers die.

Let us hope that Congress will at last assert its authority and enact legislation providing controls for organized mutiny which endangers public safety for personal gain.

If the enemy had bombed our coal mines, the work stoppage would not have been as complete as when the United Mine Workers deserted their posts. Therefore their action is the equivalent of an enemy attack on this nation".

—Industrial News

Now let's put the monkey on the backs where it belongs. The miners

did not refuse to work, when they had a contract. Their contract expired and the owners and operators of the mines knew it months before the last day, March 31. The owners are to blame, and the monkey is on their backs. The government has never taken over the mines on a basis to make a contract with the miners, and refusing to work without a contract was not treachery or treason, against the government any more than a cotton chopper refusing to "chop" till an understanding with the farmers as to what the pay shall be and whether or not the farmer will furnish the "water" or the "hoe" or something else in addition to the wages. Maybe bean pickers had better be fined for not picking beans for some bean raiser, or maybe this and maybe that. . . . the facts are the mines are not government property "yet" and we have not come to the point where one private man can be forced to work for another private man or firm. However, any government owned industry can be operated in war times on conscripted labor. But not for private works, no matter how essential to the public welfare.

What Will They Buy?

A recent survey by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce shows that if the war ended tomorrow, 53 per cent of the 35 million families in this country would buy one or more of six major articles within six months.

One family out of 14 would buy a new car. One family out of every 35 would buy or build a new home. One out of 20 would buy a new refrigerator; one out of 25 a new washing machine; and one out of 30 an electric iron and vacuum cleaner. One out of 12 say they will give their homes a coat of paint. One out of every 35 are going to put in a

RUBBER GOVERNORS

C. R. Stevenson John W. Bricker

Two rubber state governors are scheduled to get together June 28, when American Made rubber day is celebrated in Texas. The day has been proclaimed by Governor Coke R. Stevenson and all Texas will join in celebrating the important part Texas is playing in the vital rubber program.

Because most of the rubber is now processed in Ohio the arrangements committee, headed by Thornton Hall of San Antonio, president of the Texas Newspaper Publishers' association and Deskins Wells, manager of the Texas Press association, has invited Governor John W. Bricker to take part in the ceremonies.

Four of the government-owned plants are being erected in Texas, and more synthetic rubber will be produced in this state than in any other. Occasion of the June 28 celebration is the opening of the Baytown plant, to be operated by The General Tire & Rubber company in association with the General Latex and Chemical company, of Cambridge, Mass.

A nation-wide broadcast on the night of June 28 will tell the nation of Texas' part in the solution of the rubber problem.

About Soldiers--Sailors

Aviation Staff Sergeant William G. Garrison arrived from the Pacific Ocean areas on Thursday of last week to enjoy a furlough with his mother, Mrs. Essary, till about July 1, when he will report to Richmond, Va., where he will become an instructor. William Garrison has had a bit over six years in the army, and had not been home in three and half years. He was in the thick of the Jap attack in the Pearl Harbor area, being at that time in Wheeler Field. Besides that battle, December 7, he has had three major engagements with the Japs since then. His service stripes not only show that he has been in three battles but it also shows a first class rating man in point of conduct all these years. Let's not forget to remember that this boy's brother, Pfc. Harold A. Garrison, lost his life in the Philippines on Jan 31, 1942. So folks, there is plenty of room for showing William Garrison plenty of honors while he is at home. He has done enough already, so says the War Department, and from here out orders are that he is to serve "on the mainland of the United States" and no more in foreign service. So hats off to you Sgt. And when you are permitted to tell all then we'll make a date with you and listen, and listen.

46 DAYS IN BATTLE IN NORTH AFRICA

Pfc. Joe D. Stewart writes his mother from North Africa, following the famous and important victory.

Dear Mother and Home Folks:

Am writing to let you know I am ok. I came through the 46 days and nights of battle without a scratch. I skinned my knee some diving in my fox hole. Four of us were going to get our "C" ration supper out of a hot water can just as the Germans fired on us with a 210 millimeter. Two of the projectiles hit about 12 feet from me and spattered dirt and rocks all around me before I could get in a trench. I was in 13 days of battle and shelling at Maknassy Pass without rest. When the enemy retreated from there my battalion advanced toward Bizerti, moving and digging in at night. It was hard work and I didn't get much sleep. The last three moves we pulled into the enemy positions as they were retreating. One place we got in just after four of our tanks were knocked out and helped the French infantry take about 1000 prisoners that night. Later, I passed about 10,000 prisoners that were inside a barbed wire entanglement and I saw a lot of captured German equipment, big guns and trucks. I looked Tunis over yesterday. The French were glad to see the Americans come in and take over.

Dear Friend Mr. Pope:

Just received a couple of Heralds. Really enjoyed reading them. They were about two months in getting here.

How is everything in Hamlin? I hope all is well there. It certainly is not well here as yet.

Just read your article about the eggs. I'm inclosing a verse about eggs that appeared in "The Yank" army weekly. Enjoyed it quite a lot. I think in the last six months we have had eggs twice. Main dish is spuds. They're served 3 times a day. Then we still have those beans for breakfast. They're not so bad if you get "red lead" to go with them. Red lead is the slang for catsup.

If any body could send me Max Carlton's and Vesta Townley's addresses, I would appreciate it. If Max is on the same cruiser as he was about eight months ago I can locate him. His ship was coming into a port and mine was just leaving. The only man from Hamlin that I have run into so far is Leray LeBaume, but have found plenty from Abilene, Stamford, Sweetwater and all 'round.

I am now a Seaman first class. I made it about four months ago.

As ever,

Yes, at home we had a-plenty And never had to pay, But on this confounded island The hens refuse to lay.

THESE HORSES HAVE JOINED THE CAVALRY!

The merry-go-round has gone to war!

Like the plants that made refrigerators, stoves, furniture, and many other familiar household items, a plant that made merry-go-rounds is now turning out vital equipment for our fighting forces.

It was the biggest job ever performed by American industry to change over from washing machines to guns, from automobiles to planes and tanks. A job that demanded more machinery, more equipment, more men—and more electric power!

That's part of the story why America clicks, of our amazing ability to get things done. Let's feel proud of our achievement . . . proud that we have more electric power here in America than all the rest of the world combined, and we are using it.

Yes, we have built up in this country more kilowatt-hour output than all the Axis dominated countries combined.

The electric power line is another line the Axis cannot hold.

Lines have been extended to new factories and military training camps ahead of schedule.

It was not an accident that America was power-full.

Electric companies, under business management like the West Texas Utilities, had planned ahead. Knowing their business, schooled in emergencies, they saw to it that Uncle Sam had plenty of electric power—wherever and whenever needed!

It's on tap for all civilian needs too—no shortages, no rationing, no increase in cost.

It's an outstanding wartime example of what free men can do. Free enterprise works!

We're fighting this war to hold this freedom. Government bureaucracies should place full emphasis on winning the war and desist from their political endeavors to permanently change our system of government.

War Work of a Santa Fe Wheat Car

This statement explains why many Santa Fe box cars, built to move wheat during harvest season, are many miles away doing other war jobs.

★ This year an estimated 75,000,000 bushels of wheat must be moved by the Santa Fe from the wheat states it serves.

It will take about 50,000 carloads to handle Santa Fe's big share of this vital job!

To move wheat and other grains, Santa Fe has specially built weatherproof box cars—but today, many of these cars are far from the wheat belt. Where are they? What are they doing? The map above will give you an idea—it shows the movement of a wheat car for the past four months.

A Wheat Car Gets Around

Starting at Hutchinson, Kansas, with a load of flour for Boston, this wheat car has been kept rolling with vital war cargoes, including Army shoes, Army clothing, aluminum, lumber, machinery, and has just delivered a warload at San Francisco... far from the wheat belt where it is needed now! In four months this car has covered 1,439 miles on Santa Fe rails, and 9,749 miles on the other railroads. No rest for a war worker these days, but a fellow sure gets around!

Every Car in Action

Every Santa Fe box car, as well as box cars of all other railroads, is in action today. Some of these cars are too far away to be able to return to the wheat belt in time for use.

But guided by the wise direction of the Association of American Railroads, the Office of Defense Transportation, and the Interstate Commerce Commission's Bureau of Service, plus the friendly cooperation of the Army and Navy and war freight shippers, Santa Fe is making every effort to secure as many cars as can be spared from war movements to handle this year's wheat harvest.

COMMENT No. 1. Reports from the war fronts are reaching Americans in fast time, thanks to the efficient manner in which our war correspondents are doing a fine job. Yes, we are delighted over victories that are coming our way but we have a long way yet to travel before a final and complete victory. We can imagine the destruction being done by our pilots and the R. A. F. and it seems that no nation could possibly hold out for long under such severe bombings as the Italian people are now going through. It seems hopeless for the Italian people to continue the war, and the so-called master race of Germany will soon realize if they haven't already, the mighty

A DARDEN-O-GRAM

Mrs. J. T. Scott and sons Billy and Bobbie of Bakersfield, Calif., arrived on Tuesday of last week for an extensive visit with her sister, Mrs. Gene Scott and brother, Pat Miller. She will also go to Tarzan to visit her mother and other members of the family. J. T. is a welder and has some connection with the A. F. L. in Bakersfield and since there is war work to do, a trip for him was out of the question.

Mrs. A. S. Stewart of View is spending two weeks here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Campbell and Mr. Stewart's mother, Mrs. N. E. Stewart.

I'M IN THIS WAR TOO!

Yes, indeed! I'm mighty proud to be furnishing some of the $7,323,000,000 eggs Uncle Sam's asked for in '43. It takes five of us hens to lay enough eggs for just one soldier's yearly supply, and you can bet we're all laying to beat the Axis.
